

(Mobile library) Desert Immigrants: The Mexicans of El Paso, 1880-1920 (The Yale Western Americana Series, 32)

Desert Immigrants: The Mexicans of El Paso, 1880-1920 (The Yale Western Americana Series, 32)

Mario T. Garca

*DOC | *audiobook | ebooks | Download PDF | ePub*

DOWNLOAD

READ ONLINE

#1356829 in Books 1981-09-10Original language:EnglishPDF # 1 9.20 x .86 x 6.00l, 1.16 #File Name: 0300028830316 pages | File size: 44.Mb

Mario T. Garca : Desert Immigrants: The Mexicans of El Paso, 1880-1920 (The Yale Western Americana Series, 32) before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Desert Immigrants: The Mexicans of El Paso, 1880-1920 (The Yale Western Americana Series, 32):

4 of 5 people found the following review helpful. GreatBy R.P.G. This book is an excellent study that gives background on the historical cultural makeup of El Paso, TX. Garcia explores the relationship between Anglo Americans and Mexicans/Mexican Americans. The author argues, among other things, that economic interdependence led to an atmosphere of racial and ethnic cooperation. It puts to bed the myth of the so-called racial harmony that exists in many borderland communities. It is however an older study that could perhaps help another generation of scholars pick up where Garcia left off.*Note on the only other review of this book: It's sad that people would give a book they never even bothered to read a one-star rating.

Garca explores the relationship of class, race, and labor in El Paso, documenting the evolution of work, housing, education, politics, and culture in the Mexican community. Desert Immigrants makes a significant contribution not only to Chicano and Mexican history, but to the history of immigration and labor and urban studies as well.

From the Back Cover'The book is a major contribution- the product of serious research, competently written, and almost entirely free of partisan emotion.' -C.L. Sonnichsen, *Journal of Arizona History*About the AuthorMario T. Garcia is professor of history and Chicano studies at the University of California in Santa Barbara.