

(Read ebook) Journey Through Hallowed Ground: A Tour from Gettysburg to Monticello (Capital Travels)

Journey Through Hallowed Ground: A Tour from Gettysburg to Monticello (Capital Travels)

David Lillard, Journey Through Hallowed Ground
ebooks | Download PDF | *ePub | DOC | audiobook

DOWNLOAD

+

READ ONLINE

#1191407 in Books Capital Books 2006-09-15 2006-10-12Original language:EnglishPDF # 1 .64 x 5.54 x 8.501, .82 #File Name: 1933102241288 pages | File size: 29.Mb

David Lillard, Journey Through Hallowed Ground : Journey Through Hallowed Ground: A Tour from Gettysburg to Monticello (Capital Travels) before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Journey Through Hallowed Ground: A Tour from Gettysburg to Monticello (Capital Travels):

0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. showed me places I would have missedBy CJThis book showed me places I would have missed and actually included the map even tho it was preowned! Taking it with me on our trip0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. Hallowed GroundBy Richmond HamiltonI am using this guide to plan a motor home trip next year. I would recommend it to anyone who plans on being in thispart of the U.S. I would have missed things if I had tried to do this on my own.0 of 1 people found the following review helpful. Journey Through Hallowed Ground book reviewBy RuthThis is an excellent book for anyone traveling from Gettysburg, PA to Jefferson's Monticello in Virginia. Very beautiful drive in the fall but would be lovely any time of year. The book sends you into all the lovely and historic towns along the way and has very interesting side comments. We took a hike in Maryland near Camp David and the presidential helicopter flew over. If not for the mention in the book, we would not have known we were near Camp David. The National Military Cemetery in Culpeper, VA is lovely and worth the effort to find. We stayed in a Bed Breakfast in Gettysburg and took the auto tour of the battlefield, something every American should do, I believe. If people of all colors would experience this history and how this battle changed all of our futures, I believe it would make us a stronger more united group. Great book. Great experience.http://www..com/gp/product/1933102241/ref=cm\_cr\_rev\_prod\_img

Take the Journey . . . Down Route 15, the Old Carolina Road, from Gettysburg, Pennsylvania to Monticello, Virginia--175 miles of where American happened. Visit:* The homes of U.S. Presidents--Jefferson's Monticello, Madison's Montpelier, Monroe's Ash Lawn-Highland, Theodore Roosevelt's Pine Knot, and Eisenhower's farm.* The largest collection of Civil War battlefields in the country* Sites from Colonial times, the Revolutionary War, and the War of 1812* African American historical sites, including the Underground Railroad* Sites from the Native American history of the Susquehannock and Iroquois tribes* The World Heritage site of Jefferson's Monticello and the University of Virginia* 13 National Park units, scenic rivers, roads, farms, and landscapes. . . Plus historic towns and villages full of great places to shop, eat, drink, and stay, and countrysides to walk, bike, hike, explore, and camp--all along the way. Includes full-color pull-out map, plus 12 black-and-white maps of the corridor, county-by-county guides to the sites, attractions and back roads; and eight Create Your Own Journeys based on fun themes for history, heritage, and nature lovers.

This remarkable region tells the story of how and where America happened. --Geraldine Brooks, Pulitzer Prize winning authorAbout the AuthorDavid Edwin Lillard is the author of six adventure travel guides and books that explore the heritage of the American landscape. Best known as an outdoor writer, his work includes off-the-beaten track books like "Appalachian Trail Names: Origins of Places Names along the A.T". He also is the editor of an online travel guide to the Potomac River.The Journey Through Hallowed Ground (JTHG) began in 1996 as a public-private partnership to raise national awareness of the heritage and cultural resources along the Route 15--from Gettysburg, Pennsylvania to Monticello, Virginia. The JTHG partners include the National Trust for Historic Preservation, Protect Historic America, the National Park Service, the Civil War Preservation Trust, the Prince Charitable Trusts, the Trust for Public Land, Main Street Gettysburg, Main Street Frederick, Main Street Loudoun, Main Street Charlottesville, the Piedmont Environmental Council; Loudoun, Frederick and Gettysburg Convention and Visitors Associations; the Virginia, Maryland and Pennsylvania Departments of Historic Resources; and Department of Transportation, and many other regional and local organizations.